ENHANCING YOUR LEADERSHIP IMPACT

In their quest to be effective leaders, managers often try to emulate other leaders who have had an impact on them. While this can be helpful, discovering your own style leads to a more authentic engagement with others in the workplace and builds on your strengths to maximize your impact.

This highly interactive and engaging workshop will help you identify and enhance your leadership impact through completion of the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI).

This workshop utilizes instructor presentation, reflection, small and large group discussion, video clips, and experiential activities to:

- Identify the characteristics of an authentic leader
- Determine your personal leadership style
- Leverage your strengths and influence others
- Develop an action plan to enhance your leadership impact
